C. A. A. Passes Proposal to Lower Entrance Requirements For On-Campus Organizations

Queen to Rule Over Formal Military Ball

In conjunction with their first formal dance next month, the Air Force ROTC unit is currently making plans for the selection of a queen for the Military Ball on April 9. Dean Stenberg, who is in charge of the queen contest, announced that the required petition forms are now being circulated and that the total list of candidates will be made known next week.

Stenberg also revealed the procedures that will be used in selecting the queen. According to the rules adopted by the dance committee, any member of the group may nominate a girl for queen by obtaining the signatures of 20 men in the unit on the petition. Once the candidate list is complete, the final selection will be made by vote of the entire unit the day before the dance.

The name of the girl chosen to be Queen of the Military Ball will not be announced until the following night at the dance, however, at which time she will be crowned in a formal ceremony. She will then reign over an estimated crowd of some 500 cadets and their dates for the remainder of the dance.

Treasure Island was selected as the site for the formal affair, when the Navy made the Officers Club annex available to the Air Force group. The building is situated on the west side of the island among a group of palm trees, and overlooking the city of San Francisco.

"Easter in the Air" has been selected as the theme. Clark Williams, who is in charge of the decoration committee, revealed that this theme will be carried out in the decorations by combining the Air Force motif with an Easter touch.

State Students, Inmates Debate on U. N. Tonight

Two San Quentin inmates go up against two State college debaters Friday night on the question resolved: The U. S. should withdraw from the U. N. The inmates, members of a class taught at the prison by S. F. State instructor Mr. Donald Biggs, will hold the affirmative side.

The State debaters are Don Dell' Ara and James Moran, and alternate is Barry Simmons. Dr. Wayne Britton is coaching the group.

Due to the unusual circumstances, only prisoners will be allowed to attend the debate.

DUGGAN ALL-N. CAL.; TAKES SCORING CROWN

Kevin Duggan, high-scoring center of Coach Dan Farmer's 1952 varsity basketball team, was elected Monday to the All-Northern California team for the '51-'52 season by the Northern California Basketball Writers' and Sports-casters' Association.

This is the second consecutive year this honor has been given to Duggan, who was elected Player of the Year last year. That title went this year to Jim Ramstead, Stanford center.

Duggan also garnered the Bay Area Independent college basketball team individual scoring title for the past season. His 19.4 points per game average topped the closest competitor, George Clark of San Jose State, by over four points per game. Over his last two years at State, Duggan compiled a State record of 1,302 points, with an average of approximately 24 points a game.

Others placed on the All-Northern California team include Jim Doan, California, Phil Yukevich, U.S.F., and Ed Tucker, Stanford.

ROTC Clarifies Air Force Plan For Deferments

Any student enrolled in the Air Force ROTC is, after a two or three month observation period within the program, tentatively deferred from all selective service calls until such time as he either graduates or receives his commission, according to a review of the college AFROTC deferment program released by the on-campus unit.

Deferment from selective service is made on the provision that during observation period the student continues to meet academic and military standards as prescribed by both the college and the professor of air science and tactics.

In contrast to the various reserve forces deferment plans, ROTC students are not subject to active military service while attending college and enrolled in the officer training program.

Graduates who successfully complete the AFROTC program and are tendered second lieutenants commissions concurrent to receiving their degrees may then be called to active duty as Air Force officers, depending on the world military situation or their own individual choice.

Business Club Elects New Officers For Spring Term

The first meeting of the San Francisco State Business Club was held last Thursday, February 28. New officers elected for the Spring semester were John Johns, president; Robert H. Goble, vice-president; Orval Mallette, treasurer; and Merle Krantzman, secretary.

Under the leadership of Johns, the activities for the Spring semester were planned. For those unfamiliar with the purposes of the Business Club, the efforts of the club are coordinated to reach all students in the business field.

The activities for this semester include hearing speakers from the business field, plant tours, motion pictures, social gatherings, with special emphasis on employment

A motion to lower the grade point average for membership in campus organizations was proposed to the Club Advisory Association by Maurice Besse, representative of the I. R. C., at a regular meeting of the association, Tuesday evening, March 4, on the old campus.

Following is the text of Besse's proposal: "Point number 10 of the 'Ten Point Plan' which requires a minimum scholarship average of 'C' (1.0), the grade point average required for

College Schedules Educational Tour

Trip Itinerary Includes Mediterranean, Mid East

Dr. Louis Wasserman, associate professor of philosophy and government, will conduct a tour of the Middle-East and Mediterranean area which is scheduled by the college for July 5 through August 20.

The tour's itinerary will include Greece, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Israel, and Spain. Visits in each of the countries will include interviews with government officials, educators, and religious leaders.

Five days will be spent in each country except Israel, where the tour will stop for 10 days. The tour will include stopovers of a few days, each in London and Rome.

Cost of the educational, non-profit tour will be $1,195 from New York that figure includes transportation, hotels, meals, guide services, and other group expenses. Participation on the tour will be limited to 16 people, and a deposit of $100 must accompany each application.

Persons interested in obtaining further information on the tour should contact Dr. Wasserman in CH118A.

California Gov't Tests Slated For June Graduates

The examination on California State and Local Government will be held during the Spring semester as follows: Tuesday, March 18, 4 to 5 p.m., and 5 to 6 p.m.; Thursday, April 17, 4 to 5 p.m. and 5 to 6 p.m.; and Tuesday, May 13, 4 to 5 p.m. and 5 to 6 p.m. in Anderson Hall 5 and AB2.

The examination may be taken only by graduating seniors. No more than 200 students can be accommodated during each of the six hour periods scheduled above.

Students should notify the Social Science Division, P. O. Box 8, in writing, of their preference of date, before Wednesday, March 12. Names of students for each examination, with date, room, and time, will then be posted on the bulletin board in front of CH119 on Friday, March 14.

Panel Set For Tuesday

A panel discussion entitled "The Christian Student and His Studies" will be given at the weekly Collegiate Fellowship meeting Tuesday, March 11, at 1 p.m., in Anderson Hall 110. This is the second of four meetings in a series.

The topics for March 18 and March 25 are, respectively, "The Christian Student and Dating and Marriage," and "The Christian Student and His Personality." Everyone is invited to attend.

All those interested in the club are invited to attend any of the club meetings. The next meeting of the group is planned for March 13.

all members as well as officers of service clubs, is unworkable and impracticable for the following reasons:

"1. It discriminates against service clubs by requiring that only these groups observe a 1.0 grade point average, while other groups are exempt. (Therefore, thirteen (13) groups of a total forty-two (42) groups are forced to abide by this rule.)

"2. It is often unworkable from the service club viewpoint because all do not abide by the ruling.

"3. The service groups that do abide by the present rule are sometimes penalized from pledging certain individuals because other groups will pledge them without observing this ruling.

"Therefore, point number 10 should be changed so that the requirements will parallel the minimum grade point average as stipulated in the current college bulletin (1951-1952). Furthermore, that point 10 be changed so that it will include all groups on campus. (Service, religious, interest, etc.) Certain clubs whose functions are to recognize scholastic achievement will not fall under this ruling.

"Therefore, point number 10 should be stated as follows: The minimum scholastic standards of the college are required of all members of recognized college groups:

Units attempted—	Probation (less than)
0-15	0.2
16-29	0.4
30-44	0.6
45-59	0.8
60-74	1.0
75-89	1.0
90-123	1.0
Graduation	1.0

"The minimum scholarship average of 'C' (1.0) is required for all club officers."

The motion was passed, with one vote against and one abstention. It will be presented as a recommendation to the Board of Directors which convenes Tuesday, March 11.

Don Johnson, student body president, says of the proposal: "I feel that lowering the grade point requirements would not only weaken the organizations involved, but would also be detrimental to those students affected by it. The present requirement of 1.0, which, to say the least, is far from a safe average, should prove an incentive to students who fall below and wish to belong to a campus group. A student who has less than a 1.0 grade average, has no time for anything but study. He must keep in mind that the number one purpose of attending college, contrary to the opinions of some, is to maintain his studies."

Maurice Besse, the representative that presented the motion to the C. A. A., refused to comment on the proposal.

Alan Henderson, newly elected president of C. A. A., stated, "I certainly think this is a fair and equal ruling for all recognized campus clubs. It was with the idea in mind of creating a workable democratic rule for all campus clubs that the motion was made. Don Johnson is aware that the C. A. A. voted in favor of this ruling with only one negative vote. The C. A. A. is a committee of the Board of Directors and has the responsibility of coordination among all campus clubs. If the Board of Directors is representative of the entire student body they cannot go against the wishes of such an overwhelming majority of campus clubs. If the Board of Directors votes against this ruling then there ceases to be any justification for C. A. A. Perhaps if Don Johnson wishes to commence a crusade he can crusade against many more conspicuous faults under the jurisdiction of the Associated Students."

State Entertainment to Tour City High Schools

To better acquaint the students of the San Francisco high schools with San Francisco State College, a plan is currently underway to send college talent to the high schools for rallies, assemblies, etc.

Don Johnson, president of the Associated Students, is acting as public relations representative, while DeVon Stanfield is in charge of selecting the entertainment to be presented.

This plan was tried last semester, when one show was given at Lincoln High School. It was well-received by the high school students.

OFFICIAL COLLEGE NOTICE

Deadline Dates for March - April:

March 14: Last day for filing application for individual study. Students embarking on courses by the Individual Study plan must file an application with the registrar's office on or before this date.

March 28: Last date for filing applications for June, 1952 graduation.

March 28: Last date for filing applications for credentials to be dated June 6, 1952.

April 9: Final date for dropping course without penalty for failing work.

Physical Examinations

All regular students (those carrying more than six units) who registered in the college for the first time this semester or who re-entered this semester after having been out of school one or more semesters are required by the California Administrative Code to take a physical examination.

New and re-entered students who have not yet fulfilled this requirement are reminded that they should do so before March 15, as previously announced in the February 15 issue of the Golden Gater. Arrangements for the physical examination may be made at the Health Center in Anderson 101.

Further information concerning the requirement may be obtained from the Health Center or from the Dean of Students in CH105.

Official college notices will be printed in this space regularly. All material which appears here comes to the Golden Gater directly from the Administration.

Looking Around...

By Robert E. Preble.

The suggestion is often advanced that the administration of the Associated Students has fallen into the hands of a "fraternity clique" which is in effect an oligarchy that has seized control of the machinery of student government, stifling in the process all "independent" initiative and expression on the campus. This fact of the degree of importance which fraternities tend to gain in student life is one of the stronger talking points against the whole concept of fraternities.

I wonder, though, whether this is not more the effect of a dynamic organism expanding in a comparative vacuum than anything else. A fraternity is by definition a group of individuals bound together and motivated by common interests, and the very fact of organization tends to give their actions more force and direction than those of single persons. In any situation where organized minorities like these exist there also are the potentialities for oligarchy.

Now, does such an oligarchy exist on this campus? The fact that less than one in every ten students was able to decide last spring's ASSFSC elections seems to indicate that the controlling opinion is not necessarily that of the majority. Does this, however, presuppose an oligarchy? Yes.

Albeit in a qualified sense. Say rather a "ruling aristocracy" which exists not as a result of its own efforts, but more because it is the only section of the scholastic population which is consistently active.

A student body divides itself into three general categories. First, the fraternity element with its own special interests and desires. Second, that small segment which is incapable of contributing to the extra-curricular life of the school. Third, those students lying between the other two who, because of their particular skills and goals, participate to a considerable extent in campus activities.

This last group is actually the "second party" of student government. It contains all the characteristics of a political second party, the same overlapping and intermingling of interests, the occasional differences of outlook, and the essential balancing tendency needed to maintain that government on a generally middle-of-the-road course.

There are at present over fifty organizations on active "on-campus" status. By stretching the definition, about half could be called fraternities. The rest spread across the spectrum of student interest to such an extent as to provide, somewhere on campus, an appeal or an opportunity for every member of the student body, if only they care to look.

These organizations, together with the fraternities, form the "grass roots" of campus life and politics. They are the interest groups out of which arises the diversified approach essential to the operation of a democratic form of government. If sometimes they tend to overlap and weave in and out between each other, that too is a part of the natural process. Remember that the ideal behind the operation is balance rather than conflict.

But what happens when the balance is lost because people refuse to carry their share of the load? The fraternities attract a certain percentage of the "live wires." The rest, for various reasons, either these other campus organizations, this second party... However, when this second party is being carried on the shoulders of a few people while the majority fall back into the pit of apathy, then the "clique" can and must rise to the dominant position; in time it may become an oligarchy.

Unless you are willing to let that happen by default, you had better begin now to brush a little of yourself onto the broad canvas of student life. Look Around! Find yourself a niche and then fill it. The niche is there, and if you're not, you're not only missing, you're missing out!

Dance Group to Perform Tonight At Art Museum

The dance group of San Francisco State college will present two pre-classic dances as a part of a program put on by the Folk Dance Federation tonight at the Museum of Art, located in the Civic Center, at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge.

The State group, which consists of Hildur Make, Vilma Machette, Patricia Peace, Greta Nelson, Alton Basuino, Arlen Wendland, George Machette, and Virgil Morton, will dance the pavane and the galleard. The music for the dances is taken from 16th century manuscripts, and was orchestrated by Miss Adelia Spangenberg and recorded by the S. F. State string orchestra under the direction of Mr. Scott O'Neal.

The dances were arranged and directed by Mrs. Bernice Peterson.

Student Group Proposes 'Buddy System' As Aid in New Student Orientation

A new counseling program to make the new student "feel right at home" has been proposed by a group of State students. This program, the Buddy System, will provide someone to familiarize the new student with the college and help him with adjustment problems.

Colleges that have already put the Buddy System into operation report that it has increased greatly student participation in extra-curricular activities.

Under the Buddy System, 'old' students will counsel the 'new' students on extra-curricular activities, interview them at registration and generally help them adjust to their new life on the campus.

The student counselors are volunteers and have five or six "Buddies." Their duties will consist in showing the new students around the campus, answering questions, informing their Buddies about activities, and if possible, going with them to the different activities.

The Buddy System will be rated by S. F. students on the activities survey which will be passed among the college's students in order to determine student attitude on present and possible future programs.

Weekday Sports at Center

The Recreation Center offers a wide variety of sports and quiet games for all students every Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday from 12 to 2 p.m. in the former women's gym.

Provisions have been made for such activities as volleyball, badminton, basketball, table tennis, ping pong, shuffle board, and quiet games, including cards.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 34...THE FERRET

Descended from a long line of distinguished researchers, this studious scholar has burned too many gallons of midnight oil to gloss over a subject lightly. Especially such an important item as cigarette mildness. He burrowed into the matter with his usual resolution and concluded that a "quick puff" or a "fast sniff" doesn't offer much evidence. Millions of smokers agree there's but one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Gators End Season With Win Over Cal-Aggies

Joe Verducci's fast-improving wrestlers closed their season last Wednesday night at the new campus, pinning the Cal Aggies in a 25-15 victory.

Providing the feature match of the evening were State's Dave Vickers and Ken Leong of the Aggies.

The inexperienced Gator matmen did only fairly well in intercollegiate competition this year, according to Verducci. The entire team, however, will return next season, with the exception of seniors Warren Allbee and Grant Newland, who were elected co-captains for the season.

Drop USF Contest By Costly Errors

Two errors at crucial moments in Wednesday afternoon's baseball game with the University of San Francisco at the Fulton Street campus cost State a crucial game. The score at the end of nine innings of play was USF, 5, San Francisco State, 4.

The Gator squad, looking better with every game, tallied two runs in the fourth and two runs in the sixth inning to tie an early lead taken by the Dons. Coming in for special praise from Mentor Dick Boyle was the steady pitching of Bill McCarthy, who pitched an even game and controlled the opposition's batsmen until the final frame, when an error scored the winning run. Also receiving honorable mention by the coach was the play of Dell Young, second baseman, and Lenny Cahen, right fielder.

Next opposition for State college will be the Camp Pendleton Marines. The Leathernecks boast a roster of several outstanding collegiate and professional stars. The game is scheduled at 2 p.m. on the new campus. Admission is free.—Len Ralston.

Student Welfare Fund Available to Give Happy Ending to Student Problems

In the Spring of '51 a student was faced with the alternative of either leaving school or starving. He was unable to find part-time work, and was actually down to his last nickels. He didn't feel that he could meet the obligation of a loan, and his sense of pride objected to accepting money from the Student Welfare Fund.

Mary A. Ward, then dean of women, explained to him that any assistance from the fund would be "a gift for the time being." The "gift" could be returned to the fund whenever he felt financially able to do so, because there will always be some student in need of a "gift." Through the assistance of the Student Welfare Fund, this student was able to avoid starving, and still go to school until he found a part-time job.

HAPPY ENDING

This is just one of the many stories given a happy ending by the Student Welfare Fund. The fund was initiated by Mary Ward in Spring of '50 as "The Rainy Day Fund," a branch of the San Francisco State Foundation. There are always students on campus who are faced with emergency needs, and too often they are unable to pay back a loan.

The whole idea of this fund is to help students "over a rough spot."

If a student breaks his glasses and can't afford to have them repaired, the fund will give him the money to pay the bill. The fund has helped out students who were injured and needed X-rays, students who needed text books to study for an examination, and students who were ill and needed medical attention.

ANY EMERGENCY

One time the fund bought a girl a pair of hose for graduation. Some of the students who were in the Haight street fire last July were given aid through this fund. At times script books from the cafeteria have been given to students who were living on limited incomes and couldn't afford to buy sufficient food.

When financial assistance is given out of this fund, repayment is not like that of a regular loan. The student is not obligated to return the sum by a certain date. He accepts the aid with the feeling that when he reaches the point where he can afford to make a donation, he may want to make that donation to the fund that once helped him.

The fund is financed almost entirely through donations of students, faculty members, and student organizations. Dr. and Mrs. J. Paul Leonard made a substantial donation last Christmas. It is their annual habit to give a gift to some charitable organization every Christmas instead of sending out Christmas cards. Sigma Delta Gamma took a collection at Christmas and gave the proceeds to the fund. In January of '51 the Art Club donated the money they received from the sale of their Christmas cards to the fund.

The most recent donation was $99 from the funds left over from the class treasuries of '48 and '51. Often interested individuals give a donation anywhere from 50 cents to $5. No matter how small or how large the donation is, it will help give a happy ending to some student's emergency need; that student could be you.—By Diane Heagerty.
